As a specialist in Orthopaedic Surgery, my practice spectrum has been broad in the past, focused mainly on hip and knee arthroplasty surgery. As of May 2026, I am excited to be focusing my clinical work on Zimmer ROSA robot-assisted total knee arthroplasty. I have been performing computer-navigated total knee arthroplasty for 30 years and have received referrals from colleagues from across Eastern Ontario. This extensive subspecialty expertise has also been noted internationally with an invited presentation I gave in Italy many years ago. I welcome the opportunity to enhance my patient's function and life enjoyment through orthopaedic surgery in a professional, ethical and compassionate environment. I currently have the most extensive experience with computer-navigated and robot-assisted total knee arthroplasty in Ottawa.

My past subspecialty interest in bone lengthening and regeneration has allowed me to care for patients referred with serious conditions such as bone infection, bone loss and post-traumatic deformity. My extensive experience in Ilizarov technique allowed me the opportunity to educate resident trainees in Ottawa, other centres in Canada and abroad through an invited article with a colleague in Vietnam.

Within my career I have been able to balance clinical, research and teaching commitments with success — academic productivity and involvement in research, leadership experience in undergraduate surgical education and a focus on excellent clinical care. To this end, I am the recipient of 9 Gratitude and 27 Guardian Angel awards from satisfied patients and families.

A. Teaching Dossier Summary

I began my teaching duties in medical school at Queen's University at Kingston. Every Friday, we were responsible for giving a 10-minute talk on a clinically-related topic and I found myself interested in giving a clear and interesting presentation. During residency, I enjoyed teaching the medical students about principles of surgery and peri-operative fluid management. I was very pleased to be honoured as the Best Resident Teacher for the University of Ottawa, Department of Surgery in May 1990.

Since 1991, I have consistently been an effective teacher both within the context of formal teaching sessions at the medical school, during informal sessions such as Problem-Based Learning, at the bedside and in the operating room. Early in my career, I found that teaching residents in the operating room was a true collaboration since many of my early residents were fellow residents in surgical training. As I gained experience, I discovered that I enjoy transferring my many years of experience in the operating room to my residents and students – it kept my job from becoming routine, boring. I take great satisfaction in seeing the sense of accomplishment and pride of a PGY-1 resident who has been taken through a primary total knee replacement skin to skin. During wound closure, I revert back to my old career as a resident teacher and quiz the medical students about peri-operative fluid management, blood transfusion, post-operative fever and even suture types.

The evaluations from students both within the University of Ottawa and from outside the university have supported my performance. Prior to the SARS-COV2 pandemic, I had received requests from medical students for elective assignments from Alberta to Newfoundland and these students seem to have learned that I will allow them to perform small parts of a surgical procedure, if they are prepared.

At the post-graduate level, I have received 2 Faculty Teaching Awards over the past 22 years from a potential pool of 25 orthopaedic surgeons. I have received solid teaching evaluations from the residents and have also had the opportunity to teach 4 Canadian-trained fellows and 3 international fellows – from China, Mongolia & Saudi Arabia. I have been a long-time organizer of the Anatomy lab teaching sessions and a recent innovator in surgical training vis-à-vis the Royal College Bootcamp simulated Royal College Examination series which I developed. I took part in the Royal College Examination Review committee from 1998 to 2002 and enjoyed the experience greatly.

I was heavily involved in curriculum renewal a decade ago with the transition to formative examination multiple-choice questions (MCQ) during surgery Boot Camp for third year medical students. I wrote almost all of the orthopaedic surgery questions.

More recently, the COVID 19 pandemic has prompted the University of Ottawa to quickly pivot to a virtual curriculum. This was achieved through a lot of hard work and perseverance. The University of Ottawa was able to put together a full on-line virtual case-based learning curriculum which included flipped classroom teaching. We shared our experience at the recent Canadian Conference for the Advancement of Surgical Education and the paper has been accepted for publication in the Canadian Journal of Surgery. We have pushed ahead during the pandemic with virtual suturing sessions and plan to introduce “viewer based” suturing videos to assist students with their suturing skills.

B. Philosophy of Education

The majority of my teaching responsibilities are in the OR although I also teach in the out-patient clinic and on the ward. I have a great interest in internal medicine and my residents know that they need to be sharp with respect to their peri-operative care of patients. I enjoy teaching medical students in clinic. Each patient interaction is followed with a comment: “The teaching point on that case is...” The teaching point may be one of a medical nature, orthopaedic or professionalism.

At the undergraduate level, I have concentrated on basic scientific principles but recognize that these principles can be easily reinforced by presenting clinically-relevant case scenarios.

For senior medical students, in the OR, I present clinically-relevant vignettes: “what would your approach be and what would you be concerned about if the nurses call you tonight to tell you this patient has a fever of 40 C?”

I have approached the post-graduate training of orthopaedic surgery residents and clinical fellows in 3 ways: skills acquisition; avoiding errors in clinical decision-making and; management of peri-operative complications. With respect to skills acquisition, I am careful to spend time with the resident from patient positioning to wound closure. Simple tips such as rolling the ipsilateral shoulder away from the operative site can reduce the operative time of a femoral intramedullary nailing case by 30 minutes. Emphasizing efficient and accurate performance of a surgical skill is key to optimizing the patient’s clinical outcome. Hence, I ask my residents to remain efficient but to never rush.

When on call and during discussion of cases at Fracture Rounds I emphasize the importance of the following question: “What will be the bail-out procedure if your chosen treatment is not successful?” This seems to crystallize the concept that some orthopaedic complications occur as a result of a cognition issue at the initiation of treatment.

C. Teaching Responsibilities/Student and Faculty Contact

a. Undergraduate Teaching – Pre-Clerkship

I have been lecturing to the 1st and 2nd year medical students for almost 10 years on the topic “Biomechanics of the Hip.” I participated for 2 years in 1st year medical student Problem-based Learning (PBL) sessions which took place 3 to 4 times per year. I teach undergraduate nursing students and graduate nurses as well as physiotherapy and occupational therapy graduate students in the OR by way of an observership program organized by the Ottawa Hospital. I encourage the visiting student to stand on a 15-cm standing stool in order to be able to see the surgical field.

First Year Medical Student Mentorship Program, University of Ottawa, 2007-present

1st year medical students are required to complete a 10-hour elective. The purpose is for 1st year students to enter the clinical setting and experience the clinic, the wards and the OR. Most students are especially interested in scrubbing in the OR. This type of clinical exposure requires significant patience at times due to the potential for an inexperienced student to contaminate the sterile field. I am assisted by many superb circulating nurses who understand the importance of their role in watching the students, teaching and providing feedback. A number of my 1st year elective medical students have placed the final screw for an ORIF of a distal fibula or for a dynamic hip screw – not a significant event for an experienced orthopaedic surgeon but a great thrill to drill, tap and insert a screw for a 1st year medical student.

b. Undergraduate Teaching - Clerkship

3rd and 4th year students in orthopaedic surgery rotations, 1991-2013

I am assigned a medical student almost every second two-week rotation.

These students include both University of Ottawa and elective students from across Canada and Ireland.

My role as Director of Undergraduate Surgical Education requires me to write new multiple choice questions (MCQ's) as well as clinical decision-making questions (CDMQ's). I have also been fortunate to lead a major curriculum renewal within Post-Graduate Medical Education (PGME)

c. Postgraduate Teaching - Residents

Orthopaedic surgery core lecture series, 1991-2020

Protected teaching rounds were previously held on Wednesday afternoons and are now held on Thursday afternoons.

Until approximately 2000, this involved 4 or 5 afternoon sessions of 3 hours and approximately 2 to 3 hours of preparation time.

In 2000, as more academic orthopaedic surgeons joined our group, the number of sessions decreased to two per year – 3 hours per session.

Anatomy Lab Co-ordinator, Orthopaedic Surgery Resident Training Program, University of Ottawa, 1991- 2002

6 hours per course. This course was held every 2 years and involved dissections on 3 or 4 cadavers. Sessions alternated between upper and lower extremity. The anatomy course has been taken over by Dr. Joel Werier and now proceeds every summer.

Clinical Lecturer, 1998-2019

Basic Science Course for Orthopaedic Surgery Residents, Canadian Orthopaedic Association. 2 hours per course.

e. Postgraduate Teaching-International Orthopaedic Trauma surgeons

Surgical Implant Generation Network (SIGN) Femoral-Tibial Nailing Course & Workshop, Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia

This one-day course was initiated by Dr. Alan Giachino. Dr. Giachino, myself and Dr. David Simon gave the didactic talks. We donated our time and paid for our travel costs. The Rotary Club in Yellowknife raised $20,000 to purchase the SIGN equipment and a life-time supply of SIGN nails and locking screws. The course was held in English in order to expose orthopaedic surgeons and residents to the English language. The morning didactic session was translated into Mongolian. The afternoon break-out session consisted of a sawbones workshop. We performed multiple SIGN nail fixation procedures over the following 2 weeks; technical tips were provided. Until 2008, most patients in Mongolia with femoral or tibial shaft fractures were treated in traction or by open reduction and internal fixation using large fragment fixation. The SIGN program decompressed the in-patient load at the National Trauma & Orthopaedic Research Center (NTORC) and allowed Dr. Batzorig Bazar, my former fellow to begin a total joint replacement program in Mongolia. He now performs over 200 computer-navigated total knee arthroplasty surgeries per year.

8-hour course, 2 lectures, 4 hr prep time, 36 hours OR teaching. Total 48 hours

Teaching Innovations / Curriculum Development

3rd Year Medical Student “Bootcamp” Curriculum Development

Preparation for the Royal College examination in Orthopaedic Surgery is a stressful and hectic process. Traditionally, PGY-5 orthopaedic surgery residents meet attending surgeons 3-4 times per week for 1-hour practice oral exam sessions. Cancelled sessions are often difficult to reschedule. Twenty years ago, in Ottawa, 3-4 residents would receive one case each per session. Currently, there are at least 6 residents in our program and much of the session involves 5 residents sitting passively while one resident works through a case. I developed a “Royal College Orthopaedic Review Weekend Boot Camp” whereby PGY-5 residents receive three 90-minute Royal College examinations simulations.

After each examination is completed, the cases are shown with the surgical treatment for general discussion. Each of the 3 exams had a different focus: hip and arthroplasty; knee and tibia; upper extremity. I also arranged for a “Guest Examiner/Discussant” who this year was Dr. A.A. Giachino. Dr. Giachino received the Order of Canada for his volunteerism and his commitment to surgical education overseas. This weekend course, new in 2013 will continue next year.
